Quench Filtered Water and Ice for the Food Service Industry

At Your Service . . .

Quench, the leading provider of filtered drinking water and ice dispensers for businesses, offers a line of specialty still and sparkling filtered water dispensers, high-capacity ice machines, and custom filtration systems especially suited for the food service industry.

Unique Situations Require Special Solutions

Restaurants, catering operations, and hotels have special water and ice requirements beyond those of a typical 9-to-5 businesses. Quench offers a complete array of products and comprehensive service to provide your establishment with:

- ◆ High-Quality Filtered Water: Great drinking water, ice, and coffee for diners is certainly a critical requirement for food service operations. But high-purity water is also essential to keep expensive kitchen equipment (like steam ovens and brewers) in peak working order. Quench provides state-of-the-art filtration and purification systems, including advanced carbon and reverse osmosis filtration, matched to your specific water needs and local water conditions, ensuring both great drinking and process water for your business.
- ◆ Lower Maintenance Costs: Quench's highly-trained technicians provide comprehensive service for all of our still, sparkling, ice, and filtration systems, including preventive maintenance and same-day emergency response. Quench will even manage your maintenance schedule - no more wondering when a filter was last changed or the ice machine sanitized!
- ◆ An Eco-Friendly, Convenient, and Cost-Effective Solution: Because Quench systems treat water at the point-of-use, the need to order, store, and refrigerate bottled water is eliminated. You'll save time and reduce your business's environmental footprint by cutting waste. And Quench customers typically save up to 50 percent versus the cost of bottled water delivery!
- ◆ Great Design Features: Quench offers space-saving counter top and under-counter water and sparkling dispensers; high-capacity water and ice machines; programmable dispensing for efficient carafe filling; stylish and durable all stainless-steel models; and sanitary, hands-free operation.
- ◆ A New Income Stream: Capture a new source of revenue by offering your customers great-tasting still and sparkling filtered water, bottled on-site for a fraction of the cost of commercial bottled water. Quench can even provide attractive carafes that enhance the table-scape in even the most elegant restaurants.
